

Ronald K. Noble

Interpol
Secretary General

Speech:

“The International Counterterrorism - Experiences and Perspectives”

Tuesday, January 29th, 10:30-11:00

Curriculum vitae

Ronald K. Noble was elected Secretary General by the 69th INTERPOL General Assembly in Rhodes, Greece, in 2000, and was unanimously reelected to a second five-year term by the 74th INTERPOL General Assembly in Berlin, Germany, in 2005. He is also a tenured Professor of Law at New York University School of Law, on leave of absence while serving as INTERPOL's Secretary General.

Mr Noble previously served as the United States Department of Treasury's first Undersecretary for Enforcement (1993-1996), where he was in charge of some of the US's then-largest law enforcement agencies, including the Secret Service, Customs Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, and Office of Foreign Assets Control. Prior to that, he served as an Assistant US Attorney and Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the US Department of Justice (1984-1989).